

Work Experience and Short Term Residential Volunteering

What does the Centre for Alternative Technology do?

The Centre for Alternative Technology, or CAT as it is affectionately known, aims to inspire, inform and enable people to achieve practical solutions for sustainability and to equip people with the skills, knowledge and understanding to help our society make this change.

We work towards this goal through our graduate school, visitor centre containing interactive displays demonstrating a wide range of sustainable technology, short courses, school and university visits, information service and Zero Carbon Britain reports.

As a volunteer, you will be a crucial part of this organisation, no matter which department you work in how long you volunteer with us for.

How does short term residential volunteering work?

We can accept applications for short term residential volunteers, also known as work experience placements, at any time of year. However, we usually only have a single bedroom reserved for such placements, so availability can be limited. As a result, we ask that short term placements are either one or two full weeks in duration, though we can consider slightly longer ones if necessary.

All residential volunteers work full time, usually 9am – 5pm Monday to Friday, though some departments have slightly different arrangements (e.g. gardens work 9.30-5.30, and have a rota of short weekend tasks to be done weekly). There are morning and afternoon tea breaks at 11am and 4pm, and an hour for lunch at 1pm.

Short term volunteers live alongside long term volunteers in our dedicated volunteer accommodation on site, known as Di's Diner. Di's diner contains 5 small single rooms (of which you would have one) and 2 twin rooms, 2 shared bathrooms, a private balcony area, and a shared common room with sofas, computer, dining table, and kitchenette. All meals are catered for in our onsite, vegetarian Café.

Short term volunteers are required to pay £10 per night to cover the cost of food and board.
